Special Display and Sale of Women's Linen Riding Habits and "Star" Equestrienne Suits.

This event introduces a collection of Garments quite new in the list of ready-to-wear apparel. Heretofore the individual tailor produced apparel for the horsewoman. To-day larger manufacturing interests have taken up the work-just as similar interests have launched into gown makingand women may now purchase thoroughly excellent garb of this character for a full half less than the individual tailor's work commands.

This exhibition will be a Friday feature in the Cloak and Suit department, second floor. It will include:-

Linen Riding Habits, comprising regular riding skirt, Breeches and

"Star" Equestrienne Suits, made of tweed mixtures, checks, coverts, broadcloths and tan, white or natural linen. These are Suits adapted for riding astride. There are three model coats—a fitted hip coat, a short cutaway and a box model, all perfectly tailored and taffeta lined. The divided skirt has an apron front, which haves gracefully when the which hangs gracefully when the wearer is in the saddle, and when dismounted it fastens across in a very neat and stylish skirt effect.

Girls' Coats and Dresses.

For this sale we offer, at very special prices, a well known manufacturing firm's sample lines, as well as a cancelled-order group of Coats and Dresses from the same concern. They are garments of unquestioned merit. The majority of them were made to special order, but because the manufacturers took extra time for making them up in faultless manner they were finished too late and the order was cancelled.

Half and Three-Quarter Length Coats, made of mixed tweeds and homespuns; new "boyish" models, in Norfolk and plain box effects, finished with embroidered emblem and gilt buttons; sizes 6 to 16 years; value $12.00; sale price .

Magistrate Poel Holds Lunacy Agent en Charge of Taking Insane Woman's Meney.

Egbert L. Kroger, a special agent of the State Commissioners of Lunacy, was held in $2,000 bail for trial, by Magistrate Pool in the Essex Market police court yesterday, on a charge of obtaining $100 belonging to Margaret Poppe, an insane woman, by unlawful means. The case has been hanging fire before Magistrate Pool for a long time.

When the case came up yesterday Mr. Krotel of the District Attorney's office offered the Magistrate briefs in favor of holding the man

"There is no necessity for me to examine any briefs in this case," the Magistrate said. "Every kind of pressure, both political and social, has been brought to bear on me to discharge this man; but I don't care what his position is, it is a case that

GIRLS ACCUSE YOUNG MEN.

Theft. Scratches, Laughter and a Magisterial Injunction to Secrecy. James Bradley and Joseph Patterson were arraigned in Jefferson Market police court yesterday on charges of robbery and assault preferred by Annie Williams and Margaret Fritz, young girls who live in another room of the same house at 4 Commerce street. Magistrate Barlow held the men in $2,500 bail for examination

"Say nothing of this to anybody." cautioned the girls before he committed them to the House of Detention as witnesses: them to the House of Detention as witnessee. They had already told their story in detail. It included the breaking in of the door, the theft of a watch and 64 cents and a terrific and bloody struggle. There were few soratches on the face of Margaret Prits, none at all on Annie Williams. The girls spent their time in court chatting and laughing over something that amused them greatly. Both girls are ever 18. They told the police that they came to New York a few days ago from Mauch Chunk, Pa.

Had Rocked Graver Cleveland in the Cradle. OBANGE, N. J., March 30 .- Mrs. Mary Ann Miller, who had rocked Grover Cleveland in the cradle, died this morning at the home of her son, Stephen M. Miller, 22 Ball street, of her son, Stephen M. Miller, 22 Bati street, Orange, aged 89 years. Mrs. Miller had spent her early life in Caldwell, and as a member of the Presbyterian Church there became a friend of the Cleveland family. Old age caused her death. She was twice married, her first husband being Monroe Jacobus of Cadar Grove. Her second husband was Nicholas Miller, who survives her. Two sons, nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren also survive her.

WEAK MINDED YOUTH HELD.

Wandered Into House by Open Door-Sire ter's Explanation Unavailing. Lawyer Chauncey Truax of 7 East Sixtyentry in the Yorkville police court yesterday against Samuel Rosenstock, who was arrested in the counsellor's home Wednes-

Mrs. Truax, the lawyer's wife, was about to go out carriage riding with some friends and reentered the house for a wrap. When she returned the coachman said he saw a man enter through the street door, which she had left open while getting her wrap. Mrs. fruex, her friends, the coachman and footman went back into the house and found a strange young man in the hall found a strange young man in the hall on the second floor.

"I believe he entered my home to steal. He certainly had no business there," the complainant said to Magistrate Crane. The Magistrate asked the prisoner if he had anything to say. The young man motioned with his fingers as though he were a deaf mute. A young woman who said she was the prisoner's sister stepped up on the bridge. She said her brother lived with his parents at 81 West 132d street and was suffering from a nervous disease and could only talk a little.

HENRY POTTER TO ELMIRA.

Young Brooklyn Firebug Pleads Gullty of Arson in Second Degree. Henry Potter, the young grocery clerk who was arrested a couple of months ago for starting a score or more of fires in the Park Slope district. Brooklyn, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Crane in the County Court under an indictment for arson in the first degree.

A plea of guilty in the second degree was offered by his lawyer and accepted. Judge C ane sent the prisoner to the Elmira Reformatory. A commission appointed by the court had declared Potter same. Royal E. Melendy Says It Is No Worse Than Sunday Gelf.

FOR SUNDAY BASEBALL.

"Is Sunday baseball any worse than Sunday golf?" was the theme of a talk yesterday morning in the Newark Free Public Library before the Friendly Visitors the Bureau of Associated Charities. The advocate of Sunday ball for shop boys was Royal E. Melendy, head resident of the Newark Neighborhood House. His views were not accepted without earnest protest upon the part of several of the rominent women of the association.

Mr. Melendy pleaded that a large number f the young men and boys in Newark were employed steadily from Monday until Saturday and that the only holiday they had was Sunday. He saked that there should be provided for these persons wholesome, healthful outdoor recreations, and inasmuch as some men who were not obliged to work all the week took that day for playing golf there seemed no better game for the majority than baseball. He said that the settlement had nearly completed arrangements for the leasing of an open tract near the East Side Park, of an open tract near the East Side Park, to be devoted to Sunday baseball games especially for the benefit of working boys who have no other time to play.

"When our manufacturers give their boys & Saturday half holiday these conditions will be entirely changed," he said. "I am simply speaking now for the men and boys who have no other time for recreation. Give them a healthful game to play and you will keep them away from things less acceptable than baseball playing. You all know that some of our most prominent men believe in Sunday baseball play-

"The idea of playing ball on Sunday I know is a step in advance of the latest theological ideas, but the conditions are changing. I had a letter the other day from one of our city's ministers and he stated that he had changed his opinion of Sunday baseball and that, while at one time had reversed to he are the conditions had been supported to the conditions and the conditions had been supported to the conditions and the conditions are conditions and the conditions are conditions as the conditions are conditions are conditions. of Sunday baseball and that, while at one time he favored it, he no longer regards it as right. Now, we want the support of the churches, of course, but we don't want them to interfere with our boys' work. I respect the opinions of those people and understand just how they feel, for I, to, was brought up strictly, but if they could only come down and live among the people as we do I feel sure that they would change their opinions. Until they do understand these conditions I wish they would keep their hands off."

Trolley Road. GENEVA. N. Y., March 30.-The reported sale of the Geneva, Waterloo and Seneca Falls trolley line to the new owners of the Rochester and Eastern road was confirmed to-day by O. N. Crane, a director. The Rochester and Eastern was purchased last week by the Westinghouse interests, and now they have added the line running eest from here. It is the intention to com-plete the road from Cayuga Lake to Auburn, a distance of twelve miles, and connect there with the road in operation between Auburn and Syracuse. They are now build-ing from Rochester to Buffalo, and it is said that eventually a through line across the State will be built.
